Task force studies parks' woes, misuse

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

A task force has been set up to look into causes and possible solutions to the problems and misuse of public parks in Romulus.

Kennedy Park was temporarily closed Jan. 20 on order of the Romulus City Council, following a two-hour discussion of possible alternatives to stem the alleged underage drinking and drug selling there.

Councilman Barry Baumann at the time referred to Kennedy as "Romulus' biggest drug store."

Members of the recreation commission, Police Chief Donald Flood, Mayor Beverly McAnally, Clerk Linda Choate, Mayor Pro-Tem May Ann Banks, council members Baumann and Junior Block, and interested citizens met Tuesday to discuss the problem which, Recreation Director Debbie Dick pointed out, is not limited to one park.

According to Banks, who chaired the proceedings, many of the items discussed "were the same ones we had already gone over at our council meetings, but the input from the commission members and residents added more light to the situation."

Items discussed for study by the task force included:

- A parking area (or not);
- Loitering in parked cars;
- Park operation hours (possibly closing at dark rather than 10 p.m.);
- Limiting use of parks to residents only;
- Stepped-up police enforcement;
- The question of whether or not to ban alcoholic beverages from park areas;

- Car stickers for Romulus residents;
- Addition of police officers for a park (parks) patrol;
- Traffic hazards;
- Posting of park rules; and
- How to control growing vandalism.

According to Banks, "it is apparent that a study of the problems, solutions and an updating of our park ordinances are needed. To expedite the procedures necessary for revisions in park policies or the park ordinance, I am appointing a task force to finalize and complete details of recommendations to the mayor, city council and recreation commission."

"The task force will be charged to study the problems in our parks and to make recommendations as proposed by council members, recreation commission members, citizens and other informational data which will be available to them," Banks said.

Recreation Director Dick claimed that "everything seems to be going along very good, I'm happy with the turnout and the apparent enthusiasm. I just hope we can resolve this as soon as possible and reopen Kennedy Park."

In a letter to McAnally and members of the city council, included on the agenda Monday night, Dick expressed optimism over the meeting, but also stated that "the Recreation Commission would like to recommend the reopening of Kennedy Park, but eliminate parking completely until the committee (task force) has had time to meet and make their recommendations."

Safety first

5 win Edison awards

It was a red-letter day for students of Romulus Junior High School last week as students walked away with five top awards in the Detroit Edison sponsored Safety Poster and Comic Strip Contest.

The contest was open to young people throughout the company's southeastern Michigan area and was divided into two categories — kindergarten through sixth grades and seventh grade through 12th. The younger group was asked to design a poster that encouraged safe playtime activities around electrical installations or fallen and hanging wires.

The older group was asked to create a comic strip, featuring Edison spokesperson and basketball all-star Isiah Thomas.

Pat Clark, a representative from Detroit Edison who presented the children with their awards last week at Cory School said: "We received more than 2,000 entries from area schools in this contest, and as can be seen, there were many fine entries from Romulus."

All entrants were given iron-on transfers for T-shirts just for entering.

Police charge two men in arson of local fireworks storage building

Two Romulus men have been arrested and charged with arson in connection with a bomb-like explosion Dec. 16 that leveled a brick building used to store fireworks.

There were no injuries in the explosion, but many people in the surrounding area reported the blast "shook" their homes. It was heard as far away as Taylor and Canton Township.

Jeffrey Allen Brown, 21, and Bobby James Ward, 17, have been arraigned in 34th District Court. Both were charged with arson. Ward also faces an additional charge of breaking and entering. If found guilty, both face maximum sentences of 10 years imprisonment.

Federal investigators were called in at the time to look at the possibility of arson, but were unable to take their investigation any farther, according to police.

According to Romulus Det. Sgt. David Early, "the ATF (division of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms) closed their book on the case a while back, but because of an anonymous tip from a concerned citizen, we were able to keep on the case until things started breaking open."

Allegedly, the two Romulus men and a third companion, a juvenile, broke into the brick building by "pounding on the back wall" until a hole opened, then took out "about 10 cases of fireworks" before blowing up the building to "destroy the evidence," according to reports.

"They allegedly then turned the fireworks over to another man who in turn gave it to a Taylor man to sell, to dispose of," said Early, adding that "while the two arrests have been made, there are other people we are in contact with who were released pending review by the Prosecutor's Office."

According to reports, police followed a chain of events which led them to a home on Syracuse in Taylor, where they believed the fireworks to be stored. Surveillance of the home showed the 27-year-old suspect carrying objects from his father's car — in which he arrived — to the garage. Det. Early stayed on surveillance, while a search warrant was obtained.

The suspect's father, who owned the home, reportedly refused to allow police into the garage, saying he "didn't have a key." After gaining entry by breaking the glass on a window, Early and Officer Michael Ondejko discovered nine full cases of B and C class fireworks, covered by a blanket in the northwest corner of the garage. The explosives, which the Taylor man was allegedly trying to sell for $50 a case, were confiscated.

Glenn Qualls, who owned the fireworks and is licensed by the federal government to have them, has identified the recovered items as his.

Further investigations by Romulus Police led them to Brown and Ward. Brown was charged Thursday and released on $7,500 personal bond. Ward was arrested Friday and pled not guilty to both counts before Judge Henry Zaborowski. Preliminary examination for both men is set for 9 a.m. Feb. 13. Ward is free on $5,000 personal bond on each count.

Chamber honors surprises a retired, but busy White

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

When Gil White Jr. was informed that he had been chosen as Romulus "Person of the Year" for 1985 by his peers on the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, he was, in his words, "the most surprised person in the world!"

The award for "Person of the Year" is an annual tradition that began in 1981, when Bill Simonds became the first to be given the award. It is given on a merit basis by active members of the Chamber of Commerce with consideration going to individuals who have given of themselves in an unselfish manner to the community.

White had a feeling something was going on one day when his friend, Bill Simonds, called him and asked him to go out to lunch with a few other chamber members.

"I didn't know what was going on, but I knew something was, because I told Bill that I couldn't go due to business, but he kept insisting, saying it was really very important," White said.

He relented and was later told of his selection.

"I didn't expect it at all," says a modest White, "I had absolutely no idea it was coming."

White, who just recently turned a young 70, owns an electrical construction business that was started when he retired from Ford Motor Company six years ago "just to keep busy."

"I knew I wouldn't be happy just sitting around twiddling my thumbs, so I began the business more or less for fun, and it just took off, mainly by word of mouth."

The business is called Dadsons, Inc. ("Dad and sons, Dadsons, see,") and, according to White, it more than keeps him busy.

White lives with his wife, Olive, who, he says, has "been with me for 51 years now." They have four children, two of whom also live in Romulus.

"Gil Jr. lives here and works, putting in some time at the business when he gets a chance."

Then, there are the twins Merry and Jerry. White says that his daughter, Merry Laginess, resides here, while brother Gerald runs his own computer business in Alabama. The youngest daughter, Lois, is a registered nurse in Florida.

"She just doesn't like the cold weather up here," White says, "even when she comes to visit, she makes sure it's in the summer."

Not content with working extra hours and the Chamber of Commerce, White seems to belong to (and be a past president of) every civic organization there is, but claims to spend most of his free time working "at our church, St. Aloysius, as does Gil Jr."

White will accept his award at the Feb. 23 dinner-dance at the Romulus Holiday Inn, sponsored by the Romulus Chamber of Commerce.

"They asked me who I wanted to invite," White says, "and since I knew I'd surely forget some people, I just told them to invite the whole city, because I know everyone anyhow!"

For information or reservations, call the chamber office no later than Feb. 15 at 941-5710.

As for himself, the Romulus Person of the Year for 1985 says that he plans to keep busy.

"I don't let too much grass grow under my feet I guess," White said.

And that's an understatement ...

SHIFT CHANGE WOULD SERIOUSLY JEOPARDIZE EMPLOYEE'S HEALTH

Dear Letter Writer:

I have been employed with the same company for many years. I have also suffered from serious health problems recently. My boss wants to put me on the midnight shift and I know that I will just get sicker. I do a good job and certainly want to keep my job, so I went to my doctor and he told me to write a letter and he would sign it. I don't know how to write it and need your help.

Sincerely, JA

Dear Company Medical Department:

For the past five years, JA has been a patient of mine. During this time, he has been in and out of the hospital several times.

A team of doctors, and myself have diagnosed JA's illness as follows:

1. Hepatocellular Disease. He is being seen monthly for this condition.
2. Splenomegaly. This has been static during most of 1981.
3. Gastroduodenity. He is receiving medication for this condition and at this time the condition is under control.
4. Anemia and Thrombocytopenia. This condition is being watched closely and checked regularly for any change.

5. Acute Anxiety. JA is being treated for this condition with daily medication.

At the present time, he is taking six different medications, daily, as prescribed.

Since JA has been on his present job and shift (4 p.m. to 12 a.m.), he has shown a remarkable improvement in his condition.

It is my professional opinion that JA will not be able to serve at his full potential on any job and shift other than his present one and that a change in his job and shift, at this time, will be detrimental to his health.

It is my sincere hope that you can make the necessary arrangements to keep JA, my patient, and your employee on his present job and shift.

If you need any additional information, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely, The Doctor

RESOLUTION: The Doctor, of course, signed this letter and it was submitted to JA's company. After normal company red tape, JA was permanently assigned to the afternoon shift.

Other side of Meridian

The lady came to sleep

By TOM MOORADIAN

There is a fine line between tragedy and comedy and the story unveiled from the Van Buren Township police department could have gone either way.

As the parts of the jigsaw puzzle were put into place, one thought quickly of the children's fairy tale — "Goldilocks and the Three Bears."

It didn't end with the girl leaping out of the bed from this Van Buren dwelling, but one could visualize plainly that the mysterious events of last Saturday's intrigue just could have, if the police hadn't arrived on time.

Remember Goldilocks as you read on:

"I left the front door unlocked because my brother usually comes over on weekends," said the woman. The kids were asleep in their bedroom and their grandmother was in another bedroom. After watching TV, I also went to bed.

"In the morning, my oldest daughter, who's 14, came into my room and said: 'Mom, there is a strange woman sleeping in our bedroom.' I laughed, thinking the child was playing some kind of joke and replied: 'Well, tell her to go away'."

But the child was serious — there was a stranger in the bedroom, wrapped in a blanket and fast asleep . . . that is . . . until the mother raced in and nudged her.

The intruder did not try to promote sympathy. Her face was calm and her voice friendly. She had believed she was in the home of one of her friends.

The uninvited guest continued to insist that she was "with friends" and refused to budge from the bedroom. The homeowner excused herself from the bedroom while her daughter calmly continued to chitchat with the stranger, and phoned for police.

Police arrived at the scene and, after questioning the young lady for some time, escorted her to the scout car and drove her to the station.

"I shudder to think what could have happened to us," the mother said. "I'm glad it ended the way it did. I think the girl could have been on drugs or something."

And why didn't the children inform their mother when the intruder slipped into the bed?

"Well, because over the years I used to sneak into their bedroom and cuddle with them. And they thought that it was me last night."

You can bet that this family will be locking all of their doors when they go to sleep from now on.

'Son of super sewer' Panacea or Pandora's Box for Wayne County?

When the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System was proposed in the late 1970's, it was hailed by local and state officials as a panacea for all the problems that plagued Western Wayne County.

The system, then known as "Super Sewer", carried a price tag of $294 million and it was to create 5,000 new jobs for economically depressed Wayne County.

The massive new sewer lines were to run from Van Buren, Romulus, Huron, Canton, Brownstown, Woodhaven: from Commerce Township in Oakland County, south 60 miles along the western border of Wayne County to the Detroit River.

But with the fall of President Jimmy Carter and the arrival of President Ronald Reagan, the new administration presented new priorities and financing super sewers were not primary objectives.

When the U.S. officials killed $139 million for the Super Sewer project in September of 1983, most thought the knell had sounded for the ambitious project.

However, now comes "Son of Super Sewer", a scaled down project of the original one.

A press release from State Senator William Faust's office outlines what direction the new sewer project will take.

"Portions of an estimated $220 million for sewer projects targeted for Wayne and Oakland counties head a list of priorities of grants for construction of waste treatment works recently submitted to the Senate by Department of Natural Resources Director Ronald Skoog," the press release states.

Faust said the number one project on the list, known as "Son of Super Sewer," will be the second phase grant or project for the construction of an interceptor from Brownstown Township to the City of Flat Rock and the site of the new Mazda Plant.

The construction project first phase grant, already received by Wayne County, includes a new wastewater treatment facility for Brownstown Township and would serve, in addition, the communities of Gibraltar, Woodhaven, Flat Rock and surrounding communities in the Huron Valley South system.

"The Legislature may review the project list and approve or reject the list within 45 days," Senator Faust said. "If no action is taken, the priorities are approved automatically," he added.

Another portion of "Super Sewer," Huron Valley North, is ranked third on the list and would serve the northern part of the valley. The sewage would be pumped through this system to the treatment plant in the City of Detroit.

Communities served by this portion of the system include Van Buren Township, Wixom, Northville Township, Novi, Canton Township, Plymouth Township and Commerce Township.

Sewer lines would cross the communities of Westland, Livonia, Garden City, Dearborn Heights and Redford Township, allowing them to tap into the system thus alleviating some of their sewage and pollution problems.

"The pollution problems of this area of Michigan are ageless," Faust said. "A concerned effort has been underway for the past 20 years to improve the conditions here and clean up the Detroit River and Lake Erie. The increased sewage capacity, brought by the proposed projects, should foster commercial and industrial development in these communities, which has been stymied in the past."

Faust said a DNR award for the number one priority appeared certain and approval for the number three project looked good.

Other Wayne County projects included in the list of 170 projects are: the Rouge Valley combined sewer overflow controls (No. 12); sewer separation for River Rouge (No. 63); upgrading of the treatment plant at Wyandotte (No. 77) and local improvements for the Huron Valley South communities (No. 86).

Senator Faust encouraged anyone interested in commenting on these priorities, or receiving a complete list, to contact his office.

Computer magic

Although the computer may stir up mixed emotions for some, there appears to be no "generation gap" or "communication gap" between these pupils in the Van Buren school system and the computer. Many special programs have been restored in Van Buren thanks to the voters who approved a millage proposal last October which enabled the school district to reinstate laid-off teachers and reinstitute programs.

Spat leads to cop's suspension

An apparent shoving match between a Belleville police officer and a part-time Sumpter Township police officer ended in the suspension of one of the officers. What precipitated the incident remains unclear.

Neither of the parties involved: Belleville officer Patti Zimmer or Sumpter Township part-time officer, Gary Dockter, would comment. Dockter is the son of Belleville police chief Willard Dockter.

The incident apparently occurred on Jan.

30 in the Belleville City Hall. "There was some quarreling, and possibly some slight shoving, but no one was hurt," said Police Chief Dockter. "The witnesses are kind of vague on what really transpired between the two."

"However, Zimmer will be suspended for three days and I believe they both deserve equal three-day suspensions."

Sumpter Township Police Chief Brown was not available for comment.

Meek inherits position

Transportation chief named by school board

Van Buren Schools have a "new man at the wheel" of their transportation system. He's Douglas Meek who was named as Supervisor of Transportation.

Meek succeeds Randy Buss, who has been assigned to work on special projects with National School Bus Service, according to Dr. Elvin F. Peets, superintendent of schools.

Prior to his new assignment, Meek was operation supervisor for one of the major facilities in Buffalo, New York. Prior to joining National's group of companies, he was also Director of Transportation and Public Relations at Binghamton Public Schools in New York.

Meek brings to the position many years of experience in the transportation community having also served on the Commissioner's Transportation Advisory Committee of the New York State Department of Education.

Township board vows support of 'Sumpter Days'

A change in administrations won't have any effect on "Sumpter Days", according to members of the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees.

The trustees gave assurances to Sumpter Days representatives last Wednesday, "that this administration is committed to stage the annual summer festival."

On hand to receive those assurances were Sumpter Days

Trustee John Morgan pointed out that there may be some "legal ramifications in the use of the name."

"Sumpter Days was organized by a private enterprise, and the group may own the name," Morgan said, "however, that doesn't stop the township from coming up with something new or even a new name for the festival."

Linda Morris said she was

'We're going to create a new, positive image here in Sumpter Township.'

Clarence Hoffman township supervisor representatives Karen Grech, Linda Morris and Willard Hufaker who attended the workshop phase of the township board last week.

"I guarantee you that we will have some sort of activities this summer," said township supervisor Clarence Hoffman. "We're going to continue to promote our township."

"We're creating a new image. We are not a community that is going to stand still. We have a lot to offer and we're going to accentuate the positive things that we have going on in this community."

enthused at what she heard at the workshop.

"We're trying to get as much support as we can," Morris said. "I am in charge of the Miss Sumpter Contest and we're thinking about holding a contest for a Miss and Mister Sumpter this year and the more people we get involved, the better."

"Sumpter Days" was originally started in 1975 to promote the township and "to bring the community together." Last year, thousands of residents took part in the festival.

Our Town

Here's what's been happening in 'Our Town' this week:

Snow woes

Snow stirs a wide range of emotions in people, and when two Van Buren Township youths were strolling along in the recent downpour their eyes caught focus on a shed which appeared to house vehicles.

Upon closer inspection, the two youths discovered the vehicles were snowmobiles. And, sure enough, the owner had left keys in the vehicles. So the youths turned on the engines and off they went on a merry cruise in the snow that is, until the Van Buren Township police caught up and nailed them. The youths, 14 and 15 years old, were turned over to juvenile authorities for prosecution.

Cheese giveaway

Van Buren Township officials today announced that federal surplus food - cheese, milk and butter - will be distributed to low-income families in the township and the City of Belleville.

The distribution will take place at 11 a.m., Tues., Feb. 26 at Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road. Eligible persons are urged to bring proof of residency and income eligibility.

Just a Reminder

Just as a reminder, the Romulus Department of Transportation would like you to keep in mind that whenever three inches or more of snow falls, a snow emergency is declared.

During a snow emergency, all residents are asked to remove their vehicles from city streets or they will be towed away by the city, with all fines and/or costs being charged to the car owner.

Some cars already have found themselves on the bad end of a tow truck, so don't let yours be next.

For further information call the DPW at 941-0666 or the police at 941-8400.

Spirit among neighbors

A growing spirit of community pride and cooperation is being nurtured these days by an organization known as the Van Buren-Belleville-Sumpter Civic Affairs Steering Committee.

Representatives from several major groups are learning that their communities have common goals, concerns and problems. They are beginning to communicate and act in a way that can only lead to some positive developments throughout this entire area of the county.

Headed by Belleville Councilman Chuck Niemann, the group plans to meet on a regular basis and already has generated active participation from the Bridge Builders, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Lions, Kiwanis, Moose, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Friends of the Library and the local communities and schools.

The committee represents an experiment in civic responsibility. Its goals are varied yet point in one direction: the betterment of the Van Buren-Belleville-Sumpter area through total community involvement.

We wholeheartedly share the conviction that these communities can accomplish much through a pooling of resources and talent. A unified front can enable these communities to attract new businesses, new homes, new industry and new ideas while at the same time rekindling a spirit of rejuvenation among existing community and business leaders.

The area has plenty to offer investors — a mainline railroad, a beautiful lake, quick access to expressways and airports, a central business district, to name but a few assets.

Another valuable and often overlooked resource is the people who live here. Their commitment to progress and prosperity will have a profound effect on the future of Van Buren, Belleville and Sumpter.

We congratulate the members of the Steering Committee for their attempt to bring these communities together in a spirit of old-fashioned cooperation among neighbors. Their task is formidable but the spirit appears ready for the challenge.

During the upcoming months we will help promote the activities of this organization as a means of keeping everyone informed of the projects to be undertaken. We encourage residents to get involved as much as possible in this truly community-minded effort.

"United we stand" . . . there appears to be a realization among many that the days of going in separate directions are gone. The Van Buren-Belleville-Sumpter Civic Affairs Steering Committee is the latest example of the new thinking that has taken hold in the area.

The potential for progress appears limitless.

Seat belt law needed

The State House of Representatives apparently has come to its collective senses on the issue of mandatory seat belt legislation.

A bill to require the use of seat belts in automobiles passed the Senate last year only to fall short of approval in the House. Similar legislation has been ratified again by the Senate and now is expected to gain House support this week.

This legislation will force motorists to buckle up starting July 1 or face a $10 fine although no points would be assessed for non-compliance. The purpose of the law is to help protect car drivers and front seat passengers from the hazards of the road. In many cases it's simply a matter of survival.

We have endorsed a mandatory seat belt law as a means of inducing persons to act in a manner that, in effect, suits their best interests. Based on available statistics, usage of seat belts does reduce the number of deaths and injuries in automobile accidents.

In the United Kingdom, for instance, a study shows that nine of 10 Britons use seat restraints and serious and fatal casualties have dropped by 25 percent since a mandatory seat belt law was enacted in 1983. An analysis of 17 seat-belt-wearing countries by the U.S. Department of Transportation reveals that mandatory use laws has raised average usage of seat belts from 23 percent to 66 percent.

Despite the overwhelming evidence in favor of seat belt usage, only three states — New York, New Jersey and Illinois — require motorists to buckle up. Freedom-of-choice advocates persist in the persuasive argument that vehicle operators and their passengers have the right to decide for themselves whether to employ the restraints now found in nearly every car and truck in operation worldwide.

Generally we frown on direct government intervention; however, in the case of seat belts we are convinced that the issue remains one of public safety rather than infringement on freedom.

Usage of seat belts will save lives in Michigan. It will prevent serious injuries in numerous crashes.

That is the bottom line. State lawmakers apparently have come to a similar conclusion and taken a positive step towards promoting automotive safety.

Abortion vote

The State House has voted 77-32 to ban the use of state funds to finance abortions for the poor. Last month the State Senate passed a similar bill to stop Medicaid financed abortions.

Following is a run down of how local representatives voted last week on the measure to ban Medicaid funding of abortion. "YES" vote favors the ban:

Justine Barns (D) of Westland: No
William Keith (D) of Garden City: YES
Jim Kosteva (D) of Canton: YES
Lynn Owen (D) of Maybee: YES

A good citizen

To the Editor:

I want to write a note that will be an account of a good news item, for a change, that happens in our City of Wayne, "A Great Place to Live," instead of some of those stories of committee contentions, polarizations, robberies, murders, attacks, accidents, etc., that we so often read about in our news reports. This is my story:

May this be a news report of thanks to one of the finest neighbors one can have.

Never once this winter, as well as last, has it snowed, that my good neighbor, Roy Lyons, has failed to use his own snow blower to clear his own walk and driveway as well as mine! Even before I can get out he is already there, clearing away the precipitation and putting all in tip-top order.

During the grass cutting season, he is always giving me an assist, if not with the cutting, then with the trimming and manicuring along the sidewalk.

Often he encourages me to go fishing with him during the summer. He gives me every assist, getting me to the fishing site, moving the tackle, helping me in and out of the boat, which means he does a lot more for me than is ordinarily called for, since I am somewhat incapacitated with a stroke. We always have a great time, whether we make a catch or not.

Continually he is working on some project, either at home, where he has become quite a woodworking artisan, or for some relative or friend. And, he still finds time to help with the maintenance of his church and serve on its board of administration.

It is my feeling that this is a noteworthy story and is written to at least express my sincere thanks and appreciation to a fine and outstanding neighbor, Roy Lyons, a good citizen of Wayne.

Choice, change and man's best friend

Statisticians and psychologists call them "pretenders." Statistics regarding a study done of them recently caught my eye. This survey concluded that there are many among us who are attempting to "fake it." They find themselves, for all manner of reason, in a role in which they do not visualize themselves.

These pretenders feel that they would rather be somewhere else, doing something else, no doubt with someone else. They look at themselves, according to the psychologists, as imposters, living a life or earning a living on false pretenses. They do not see themselves as competent or successful.

Quite often, a chosen career proves to be something other than what had been imagined at the point of decision making. Does this mean these are bad people? Certainly not for being human and making an incorrect decision. Certainly not for being unable to adjust to certain realities that they did not or could not foresee. In short, these are people who do not see themselves as the person they're supposed to be.

Only when they cannot, and will not, internalize the goals, expectations and requirements of their career role, yet continue to pretend, are these people of questionable character.

We all have doubts periodically about whether we're cut out for our chosen profession, but this syndrome is something else. A doctor who hates people and can't stand the sight of blood is misplaced. An accountant who hates details and isn't good with numbers should accept the realities of his situation and seek change.

Change is never easy. I was fortunate enough to hear Dr. Kenneth Blanchard, the author of "The One Minute Manager" speak last week in Detroit. Blanchard pointed out in his remarks that the first order of business in seeking order is disorder. It's like starting to work on a jigsaw puzzle — first you dump out all the pieces where you can see them, and then you work toward order.

Blanchard wasn't the only expert on behavior I met recently. I've learned a great deal about human behavior by participating in and observing a brilliant dog trainer named Dan Morris at work. Dan has shown me a great deal about "pretenders" and "imposters." He calls them fakers. The parallel between human behavior and canine behavior is uncanny.

When Dan's four-legged students don't want to comply with his requirements, like lying down, sitting or staying in place on command, they perform all manner of stunts to avoid compliance. They are experts at eliciting sympathy for their cause. They use guilt, frustration, fear — they will growl, bark and pull and strain at the lead. When the choke chain is applied, they will cough, choke, gag and regurgitate, all the time whining and crying for the loving concern and sympathy of the owner. "How can you do this to me?" they pantomime, using eyes, tongue and body. "Aren't we best friends?"

Dan is quick to point out to worried owners, "They're all actors. All that action to keep from doing what you want them to do only proves that they are intelligent enough to learn to do it."

People, like Dan's dogs, like to pretend that what is so is not so. They often work to demonstrate to any casual observer that they are okay — it's everyone else or the situation that is wrong or inappropriate. "How dare you attempt to make me do what I'm supposed to do!"

If one does not see himself in the role he is expected to perform, when he finds he is lit-

Shade trees available

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving 10 free shade trees to people who join the nonprofit foundation during February.

A Sugar Maple, Weeping Willow, Red Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, Silver Maple, Tulip Tree, European Mountain Ash and Red Maple tree will be given as part of the foundation's campaign to encourage tree planting.

It wasn't to be

One victory away from a record-shattering 15-consecutive wins, Wayne Memorial cage coach Chuck Henry looks on as his Zebras fall apart against Ann Arbor Huron last Tuesday. Despite the loss, Wayne's 14 successive wins is the best in the area. Wayne remains undefeated in the Wolverine "A" Conference where the Zebras are one-victory shy of the championship.

Tide turns at 15
Wayne suffers its first cage loss of season

Can anything positive come from a loss?
Yes, according to Wayne basketball coach Chuck Henry. If he's right, the Zebras' first setback of the season last week at the hands of Ann Arbor Huron will prove to be a learning experience. Obviously time will tell.

Despite the non-league loss the Zebras maintain a two-game edge in the Wolverine A Conference standings following a 70-56 victory over Trenton last Friday. With only three games remaining the Zebras could clinch their first cage championship since 1973 this Friday at Monroe.

Wayne (15-1) also will be looking to break the school record of 16 wins, most likely against Monroe (game time is 7:30 p.m.).

The Zebras showed the ill effects of the Ann Arbor Huron defeat in the first quarter at Trenton, falling behind 13-6 to Dan Henry's squad. In the second period Wayne bounced

'What disappoints me most is the way we played when we got behind . . . We started forcing shots and lunging for the ball on defense.'

Chuck Henry, Wayne coach

back to life, knotting the score at 28-all at intermission. Sparked by Pollis Robertson, who led all scorers with 20 points, the Zebras kept their momentum in the second half as they outscored Trenton, 20-10, in the third lperiod and 22-18 in the final stanza.

"I guess reality set in," said Chuck Henry in explaining the second-quarter turnaround. "They knew that the game was on the line."

Robertson, headed to the University of Wisconsin on a basketball scholarship, hauled down 14 rebounds and teammate Howard Flowers added 18 points. The Zebras canned 28 of 60 shots from the floor and 14 of 16 free-throw attempts.

Earlier in the week the Zebras saw their 14-game winning streak and dreams of an undefeated season thwarted by Huron, which jumped into a 20-9 lead after one quarter and never looked back. Huron outscored Wayne, 60-38, through three periods, much to the delight of the partisan crowd.

"They are a very good team that totally outplayed us . . . shooting, rebounding and defense," Henry explained. "What disappointed me the most was the way we played when we got behind."

"We started forcing some shots and lunging for the ball on defense," he pointed out. "The kids were really down after the game but this (loss) can do nothing but help us."

Robertson again led the Zebras with 19 points and Flowers netted 13.

Romulus turns back Oak Park, claims title
Eagles can win it all with victory over Truman

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Playing over 26 turnovers and an upset-minded Oak Park, title-bound Romulus captured a share of the sophomore Metro-West Conference basketball championship by pulling out a 62-56 victory over the defending champ.

If Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles want it all, then they'll have to stop Taylor Truman Friday night. Romulus defeated Truman by 20 the first time around.

Wilkerson labeled the Oak Park game as "one of the slopiest we played this season. We had 26 turnovers, and they probably had an equal number. It just wasn't one of the better games to watch, I'm sure."

Although Wilkerson's troops handily defeated Truman earlier in the season he warned that "if we don't cut down on our mistakes we could be in trouble."

"We're going to have to contain Glenn (Derrick Glenn, Truman's 6-3 senior forward) who definitely hurt us the first time we met them," Wilkerson said. "He got 26 points, and 20 of those was in the second half."

Though they never trailed against Oak Park, Romulus just couldn't come up with the knock-out punch. With all five starters scoring, the Eagles edged their way to a 18-12 lead and stayed out front 31-24 at intermission.

But the defending champs came back thanks to Dave Pritchett to outscore their hosts 16-15 in the third period while each team got 16 points in the

Glenn grapplers grab 19th title

Westland John Glenn said "good-bye" to the Northwest Suburban Conference wrestling league Saturday night by winning a share of the conference title.

It was the 18th consecutive conference title and 19th overall championship for the Westlanders since they joined the Northwest pack in 1963.

"Although we (John Glenn) are leaving the league this year for the Western Lakes Conference," said Glenn Coach Tom Buckalew, "the Northwest Suburban will function for one more year before it disbands."

Buckalew said he was pleased with his team's over-all performance at the league meet.

"Our kids wrestled pretty well," Buckalew said. "We got five gold medals and had two others who were runners-up."

Glenn lost the conference meet to Garden City which emerged with 199½ points as compared to the Rockets' 193.

However, since Glenn defeated Garden City in a dual meet, the two schools will share the title.

Glenn received first place performances from Daryl Hooley (98), Glen Cemazar (119), Dan Gibson (126), Dan Schimansky (138) and Scott Lucas (155).

The Westlanders were second with Rob Okurowski (112) and Mark Kropp (145), while Rog Okurowski (105), Darrell Grassmyer (132), Mike Jaszcz (167) and Matt Johnson (185) finished third. Gary Brown (198) wound up fourth in his weight class.

Rematch: Inkster vs. Robichaud

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Title-bound Inkster tuned up for its rematch with archrival, Dearborn Heights Robichaud, last week with convincing victories over defending Suburban Athletic conference champ, Highland Park, and state-ranked Pontiac Northern.

The two victories lifted Coach George Thompson's Vikings to an impeccable 6-0 record in the SAC and a 12-1 over-all record. But Inkster is "far from clinching the title," warns the veteran Inkster coach.

"Anything can happen in this league," Thompson said. "And Robichaud is still within reach of us. If they knock us off Friday night, then it's a wide open race again."

Thompson figures that his team must stop Robichaud's Jarvis Walker and Omar Galbraith and must also hold the turnovers to a minimum in order to get past the Bulldogs for a second time this year. The Vikings will have the homecourt advantage. As for the first game where some 2,000 fans showed up to watch the classic, persons attending Friday night's rematch are urged to get to the school early. Late arrivals may find the doors closed.

Inkster put Highland Park away early as the Vikings jumped to an 18-8 first period lead and never looked back. With all-state candidate Sherard Lloyd connecting on 10 of his team's first 12 points and William Springer and Anthony White joining in, Inkster never appeared to be challenged by the Polar Bears who trailed at half-time 33-24. Inkster outscored their visitors 25-11 in the final frame.

Lloyd finished with a game high 22 points and played a solid defensive game. Springer had one less (21) than the high scorer while White checked in with 17 for the Vikings who also sank 23 of 32 free throws.

Antoine Madison led the Bears with 16 and Doug Butler had 15.

"Obviously I was pleased with the outcome of this game," Thompson said, "and the first period was the difference."

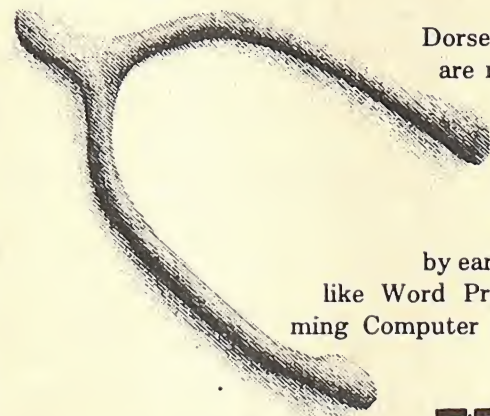

Pontiac Northern, however, shot it out with the Vikings before losing an 85-77 decision. Backed by balanced scoring, Inkster led 20-16 after the first period but fell behind 41-38 at the halfway mark before Springer and Shaun Lloyd led a comeback in the third period that lifted the Vikings to a 60-52 advantage. Each team got 25 points in the last period.

Jesse Hardy, who played an exceptional defensive game against Highland Park, displayed his offensive ability against Northern. He led the local cagers with 17 while Springer finished with 16 and Shaun Lloyd had 15. Also in double figures were White with 13 and Sherard Lloyd with 12.

Northern's 6-5, 220-pound center, Amos Brown, paced all scorers with 31 points.

Belleville is perfect on Wolverine 'A' mats

Tigers capture league title; undefeated in dual meet competition

Belleville, the defending champ, picked up seven out of a possible 13 gold medals en route to its second straight Wolverine "A" Conference wrestling championship on Saturday.

Coach Gerald Malecek's Tigers, boasting a perfect 12-0 dual meet record, garnered 207 points, beating out its closest rival Wayne Memorial by more than 50 points. Wayne was second with 149½, followed by Monroe (125½), Trenton (79½), Lincoln Park (73), Fordson (45½) and Wyandotte (41).

"It's always nice to win a title," said Malecek who has coached the Tigers for the past 13 years and has produced championship teams seven of the last nine years. "One of our goals is to win the league and our wrestlers have accomplished that goal."

Belleville's next big test comes Saturday when the Tigers join a host of neighboring schools: Wayne, Glenn, and Romulus at the Class A District Championships scheduled for Temperance Bedford.

Bedford, which has won the last two state titles, is an overwhelming favorite to win the team title at its district. However, wrestlers who wish to advance to the regionals to be held the following Saturday at Walled Lake must finish among the top four in their respective weight classes.

Belleville's 12-0 record also established a new mark for the Tigers whose previous best was 12-0-1 won-lost-tied in 1981.

James Bishar got the Tigers off on the winning track when he claimed a gold in the 98-pound class after defeating Trenton's Dan Demick.

The champs followed with victories in the 105-pound class as Bruce Nigg pinned Dave Barker of Wayne Memorial in 1:18; and 112-pounder, John Ritchey won via a fall over Monroe's Bourbine in 2:32. John's brother, James, also won a gold thanks to a 4-1 decision over Trenton's 119-pounder, Kevin Webster.

Belleville also had league champs in Mike Beckley who proved he was the best 126-pounder at the meet when he pinned Fordson's Carl Hossien in 1:30. And Darrell Elder, a rugged 155-pounder, stopped Monroe's Shane Anteau, 5-0, for his first place medal and All-Area griddler, Doug Chapman, picked up a gold in the 185-pound class by beating Monroe's Todd Campbell, 7-2.

Belleville produced two second place winners in Brett Olds (132) and Stacey Washington (138), while Bob Tamsey (167) and Sam Druker (198) won third place medals by winning their consolation round matches.

Beckley also walked off the mats with the 1985 Wolverine "A" Conference's Most Valuable Wrestler Award.

Rockets are back on winning track

By KEITH A. DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

Back in the early 1960's, there was a television program called "That Was the Week That Was."

For Ron Taig and his Westland John Glenn teammates, the week of February 4-8 was the week that was as they defeated a highly-touted Farmington Harrison team (featuring football all-stater John Miller) and league rival Livonia Franklin.

The two wins raised their overall record to 8-7, but more importantly, improved their league record to 5-2. The victory over Franklin kept them one game behind Northwest Suburban League rival Garden City (6-1).

It was, as coach Gordie Davis put it, a week that "everyone contributed and it showed in the balanced scoring."

Perhaps the biggest contribution came from senior forward Ron Taig (6-2, 170) who led the way with 37 points and 29 rebounds.

"He's been doing a super job," said Davis. "He got confident and his shooting came along."

Which is to say the least. Taig had one observer at the Franklin game talking to himself as he went to the free throw line six times in the second period and canned five of them.

Said the observer, "That's one guy you don't want on the line tonight."

Or Tuesday night, either, as Harrison took the wrath of the Rockets following the previous Friday night's loss to North Farmington.

After falling behind, 15-12, in the first quarter, the Rockets went on a 26-11 tear to grab a 38-26 halftime lead. The run was led by senior guard Phil Koeller, a noted Hawk killer, with 6 points. Last year, while on JV, he hit a shot with three seconds left to beat Harrison. Dave Jensen came off the bench to add six and Taig began his dominance with a shot at the halftime buzzer.

Glenn kept widening the lead in the third quarter, despite a 21-point binge by the Hawks. Taig led the way with 8 points as he built his game-high total to 18 points, a career-high (at least for 48 hours).

Davis emptied his bench in the fourth period and the Rockets iced the game with 17 points, including two from Mark Phillips, his first of the season.

Two nights later, the Rockets found themselves at Livonia Franklin for an important league game.

"It was a must game," said Davis. "Franklin always scares us. They come to play."

So did Glenn as they opened a 16-11 lead after one quarter. What was more incredible was that they did it without the scoring of Mike Baydarian, their leading scorer.

But Baydarian does more than just score. "He did a great job of getting the ball to the open man," said Davis.

What also helped Glenn was the foul trouble of Franklin's 6-3 center Jeff McCaw, who picked up three quick ones in the first quarter.

Franklin came back to take the lead at 23-22 at the 3:23 mark when Tim McGillivray hit a lay-up. The 6-2 forward led all scorers with 23.

But the Rockets didn't panic. Baydarian hit two free throws with 29 seconds left to cut the lead to 30-29, then Winfrey hit a shot with two seconds left to give them a 31-30 lead, one they would not relinquish.

Taig made it 36-30 and the Rockets broke loose.

Ten pin topics

— by jim wrublewski

How many times have you stepped up in the 9th or 10th frame, with the game within a mark or two, and thought about a strike or even a spare might make the difference between winning or losing? Or let's take it a little further: That strike or spare makes the difference between hitting a new all-time high or falling just short? The mind starts working a little faster. Maybe a little muscle twitch starts and the nerves let you know that you are a human being after all.

Here you are a mature adult and nervous about throwing a bowling ball at a few pins 60 feet down the alley.

You're not alone either. If you watched the PBA Tour recently you saw Marshall Holman and Mike Durbin, both tested professionals, throw a string of strikes, nine-in-a-row and then tighten up just a touch and miss that special high mark — the 300 Game — and on national television.

Can you then imagine what it was like for a couple of our youngsters recently? Take 17-year-old Alan Wasinski of Westland. Rolling at Oak Lanes, Alan started with a spare then strung 11 strikes in a row for a 290 game. Even though the pressure of a perfect game wasn't there the knees just had to be knocking. And they weren't knocking so much that he couldn't continue throwing strikes for another 200-plus game and a 656 series.

Then, there's Nelson Kluska, a 15-year-old student at John Glenn High School. Rolling in a school league at Westland Bowl, Nelson not only set some new highs for himself he also put some new marks in the school record books. He didn't have the luxury of taking a little pressure off by starting with a spare. He started out putting one strike after another on the sheet. Kept right on going through the 8th and 9th frame and into the 10th. Strike number 10 and then 11 became history. How this 15-year-old could even stand up for ball number 12 I will never know. I don't think I could.

Luck wasn't with this youngster, though, this time around and he had to be satisfied with a 296 game and a 680 series.

But showing the maturity he did I'm sure he will experience that special exhilaration of a perfect game before too long.

Now we come to Rick Przytulski.

Rick isn't a teen-ager like Alan or Nelson and even though he may be in the same age bracket as Holman and Durbin he definitely doesn't make a living with bowling. What Rick did was to realize the pressure of stringing strikes together and not let it bother him too much. I was lucky enough to see the last three and they looked like triplets going into the 1-3 pocket. Yes — they were all strikes and Rick also realized the exhilaration of achieving the perfection of a perfect game. It turns out that this is not only Rick's first 300 game but also the first for the season in the Westland Mixed Classic (where Rick is carrying a 193 average) as well as the first for Westland Bowl this year, making it a little more memorable for a lot of people.

Tom Brudzinski is another man who chalked up a spot in the record books when he rolled a 300 game for a 731 series in the Super Bowl Classic. Other top shooters at Super Bowl included Bob Forsythe with a 770 total; Chris Tilli at 750; Mike Rossenbeck had 749; Mike Torchia with a hot streak for 729 and 708; Larry Kubert 725; Dave Kowalski had 257 for 723; Mike Beaudrir 267 and 248 for 718; Ken Mehl at 274 and 253 for 705; Jim Scott with 258; Dave Fisk 276; Tyler Best 255; B. Baker a 234; Ernie Gazdag Jr. a 289; and Wil Simonds rolled a 288 game.

For the ladies, Cyndi Edwards was in her usual fine form for a 268 game and Robin Lemmon put together 245 and 224 on her way to a 639 total.

At Town 'N Country, Kirk Carson put together 11 in a row for a 290 game; Alvin Keeler had a 279 game; E. Seabloom alternated the spares and strikes for a "Dutch" 200 game; and almost lost in the shuffle we have Al Thornsberry with 12 in a row for a 300 game (must be old stuff to Al because we didn't hear the whistles and bells going off).

Clarence Cottrell recorded an all-spare game at Fiesta Lanes and Fred Novakovicks also had one at Wayne Bowl along with Charles Barnhouse who had a 278 game; and Ron Smith a 277 game.

Belleville, Wayne to chase Monroe for league swim title

State-ranked Monroe High will be favored to win and retain its Wolverine "A" Conference swim championship when the seven members of the league convene for their second conference competitions scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 19 and 20 at Wayne High.

The Trojans will enter the league meet with an untarnished 6-0 dual meet record after turning back Wayne Memorial 103-68 last Thursday.

"They (Monroe) have another outstanding team," said Wayne Coach Jim McPartlin, "and, unless there is a complete breakdown in their line-up — and I don't expect there to be — they're going to come away with the title."

Wayne (4-2) and Belleville (5-1) are expected, however, to apply most of the pressure. Wayne should come away with a medal in the diving thanks to Matt McCutcheon whose lone loss on the diving boards in the league is state-title hopeful, Chris Craig, of Trenton.

"Craig is considered one of the finest divers ever to compete for Trenton," noted

McPartlin. "McCutcheon should be in the running for a medal, however."

Medals will be awarded to those who finish first, second or third in the individual events.

The league meet will be conducted on Tuesday, beginning with diving at 12:30 p.m. The swimming events will get underway at 4 p.m.

The championship will be decided the following night

Twistin' & turnin'

Coming out of a spin is Wayne Memorial's outstanding diver Matt McCutcheon who will be competing for one of the three medals offered in diving in the Wolverine "A" Conference. However, McCutcheon will have to beat Trenton's Chris Craig for the gold, and Craig happens to be the leading contender for the 1985 state title.

Belleville comes through week with split decision Tigers turn back Annapolis; Fall to Wyandotte

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It took some switching of gears and a disallowed basket with 22 seconds remaining for Wyandotte to escape with a thrilling 49-44 Wolverine "A" Conference basketball victory over Belleville Friday night. Dave Rhoden's basket of an errant Chris Grantham's jump shot was nullified by the officials who called traveling on Rhoden which quelled the final remnants of a Belleville rebellion and lifted Wyandotte to victory.

Up to that point, it was anyone's ball game, according to Belleville coach Leon Birdyshaw.

"If you were a spectator it was an exciting game to watch," Birdyshaw noted. "It was also a close game all the way and I thought we had them until that controversial call which took our momentum away."

Wyandotte, using a zone defense and a 'snail-moving' type offense, moved to the front of a 14-10 first period lead. But the Tigers rallied behind Grantham and Ladion Tait to catch the Bruins at the midway point, (24-all). Wyandotte then outscored their league rivals, 12-11 in the third period, setting up the nailbiting finale.

When Lewis Willis came off the Tiger bench and scored four points, Belleville kept the pressure on and, with 22 seconds left, Grantham put one up that bounced off the rim into Rhoden's waiting hands. He returned the ball into the net ... only to be called for traveling.

Tait continued to earn high praise since moving up from the junior varsity to varsity two weeks ago. The deft ball-handler and shooter collected a game high 17 points while Grantham chipped in with 13.

Wyandotte got 16 points from Norm Erickson.

Earlier in the week Grantham sank a season high 27 points and Tait counted 18 as the Tigers tripped up Dearborn Heights Annapolis 77-68 for their third victory in 13 starts.

Belleville capitalized on 10 of 15 free throws in the fourth period to salt away the non-conference decision.

Annapolis stayed close throughout the fast-action game and lost it in the fourth when the Tigers outscored their rivals 24-19.

Glenn edged by Wayne

There is some consolation in losing in gymnastics to natural rival, Wayne Memorial and to Farmington Harrison for Westland John Glenn.

Although Coach Jean Hawley's Rockets fell 123.2 to 121.95 to Wayne and also dropped a 125.85 to 118.6 decision to Harrison last week, both Glenn scores are above the regional qualifying tallies.

"If we can post two more qualifying scores in the next five matches that meet regional standards, then our team will compete in the regional competitions," Coach Hawley said.

However, the two losses dipped Glenn's over-all record to 4-6 on the season. The Rockets managed to rebound from last week's two losses with a 116.55 to 115.65 victory over Northville.

Wayne swept two of three events against Glenn as Samantha Patterson claimed the floor exercises with an 8.05 and posted an identical score to tie Glenn's Julie Fitch in the vault event.

Wayne's Karina Kessell, whose 7.95 was good enough for a third place in the vault, came back with an 8.15 to lead a Wayne sweep of the bars. Runner-up was Cathy Cooney (8.05) while Patterson finished third with an 8.0.

Glenn managed to salvage a first place on the beam as Dawn Giuliani broke teammate Marcy Diepeveen's record (7.95) with a winning 8.45 effort. In second place was Wayne's Julie Stocchi (7.8) while Diepeveen was third (7.75).

Against Harrison, Glenn's best was third place. Marie Wells scored an 8.05 in the Sweet tooth treats without the calories

By SUE McDONALD
ANP News Editor

Not one, but two French cream rolls on a diet? Chocolate mousse on a diet? Pumpkin pie with topping?

Sounds impossible, but not if you visit The Slimmery at Wonderland Shopping Center in Livonia. Tucked away at the rear of the sprawling shopping mall, the shop offers a variety of confections, all with one thing in common... they're all low in calories.

Carol Elliott and her husband Walter are the proprietors of what is one of two Slimmery franchises in the state. The Slimmery got its start in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1974 with one store. That number has grown to five, and it now has franchises in 14 states.

Many of the foods that are available at the Elliotts' store are shipped in frozen from the main manufacturing plant in St. Louis, with Carol whipping up the various confections in the backroom for sale to eat there or carry out.

"Weighing is very important," she explained, "... weighing and equating them to weight reduction club programs."

The most popular item is the mousse, that comes in several flavors and has only 80 calories — the equivalent of a glass of skim milk — per serving.

Two french cream rolls have just 158 calories — equal to an egg and a glass of skim milk.

Carol discovered Slimmery products several years ago, while a Weight Watchers member. She tried the frozen dessert, an equivalent to ice cream without the butter fat, and it was literally love at first bite.

When her husband, a mason, faced a slowdown in work two years ago, they explored the possibility of opening a business and settled on The Slimmery. Although the couple had hoped to open the franchise closer to their Ann Arbor home, they found the area did not meet the firm's specifications for income level and number of residents to make it profitable.

The Livonia shop was the next choice, in part because of the location of a Slimmery there at one time.

The shop not only specializes in pastries, it also has frozen entrees ranging from pizza rolls, crabmeat spinach quiche and Chinese chicken subgum to soups and salad dressings.

"The wonderful thing about it is that they're all low in calories," Carol pointed out, noting that they taste good. For the birthday person whose counting calories, there's even decorated cakes, which the Elliotts' daughter, who works at the shop part-time, decorates on request.

The cake batter, according to Carol, includes an egg and milk and just enough flour to equal a quarter of a slice of bread. It is sweetened with saccharin.

While entrees are available at the shop, Carol doesn't offer them as part of the menu, since she lacks appropriate side dishes. There's also Rosen's bread, with just 39 calories per slice, in rye, caraway rye, pumpernickel and black.

Another feature is tofutti, a frozen dessert concocted from tofu, a soybean byproduct, that meets the sweet cravings of persons who are allergic to milk or are on cholesterol free diets.

"A lot of people have the idea that tofu is this flavorless looking stuff, but I tried the tofutti and I was amazed. It really tasted good," she noted. A four-ounce serving has just 128 calories.

Carol enjoys her work at the shop. It's her first work outside of her home, and she has found that it isn't a hard business to operate and that she enjoys the people she comes in contact with, many on a daily basis.

"It gets so that everybody who comes in is a friend," she added.

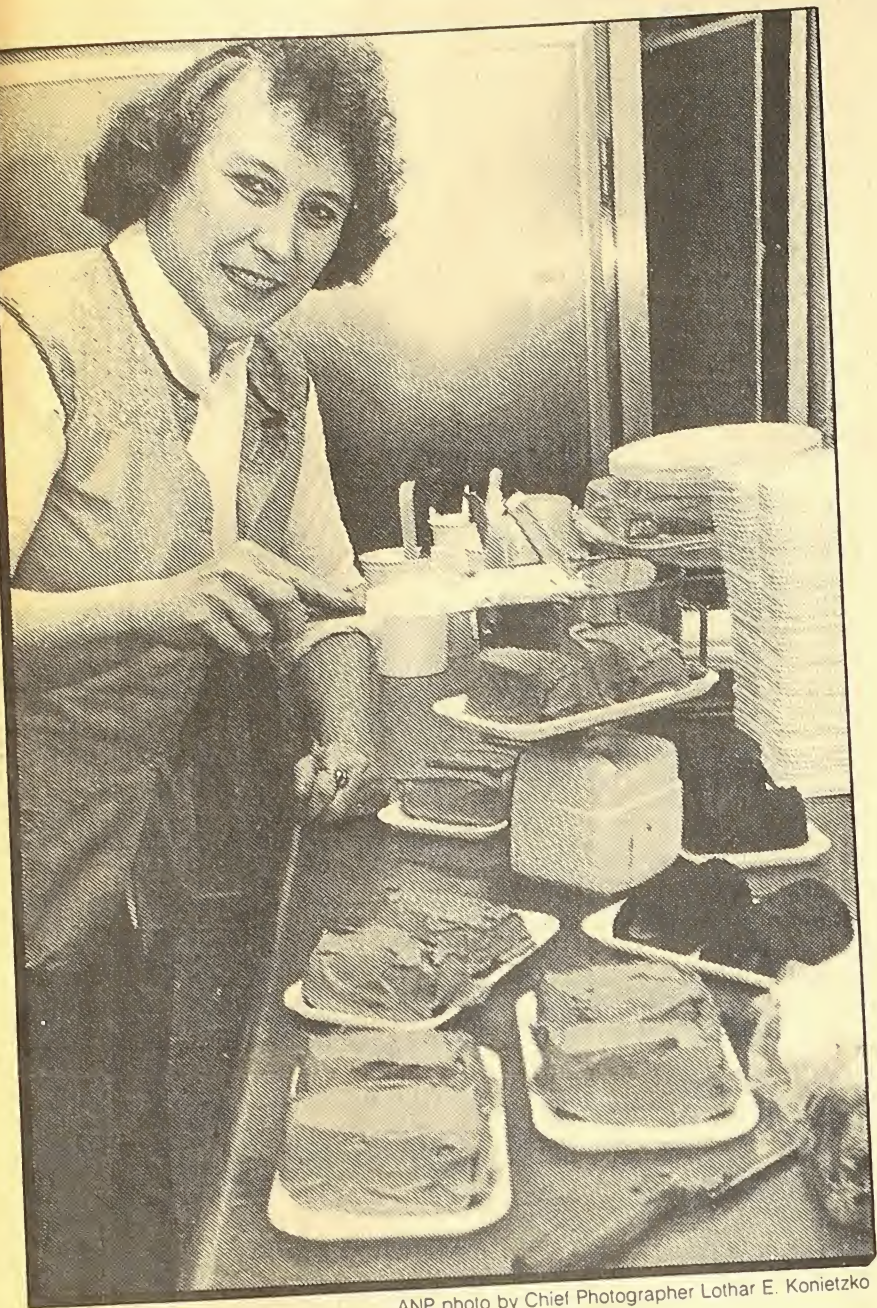

With 80 percent of her customers on weight reduction club programs, Carol is kept busy keeping the display case and freezer stocked. But she finds time to supply Andonni's Restaurant with nachoes, pizza rolls, strawberry shortcakes, muffins and apple strudel for its diet menu.

She has a happy hour everyday from 2 to 5 p.m., when sundaes — with hot fudge, hot caramel, strawberry or cherry toppings — are available for $1.25 plus tax. There's also a breakfast special of coffee and toast for 99 cents.

She is finding that her customers are coming from far and near, most finding out about the shop by word of mouth.

The Slimmery is located at 29987 Plymouth Road, Livonia. For further information, call 525-6655.

Dieter's delight

Frenk cream rolls may not sound like a diet food, but at the Slimmery in Wonderland Center, the tasty confections have only 158 calories in two of them. Carol Elliott and her husband operate the franchise, that caters to dieter's sweet tooth, and have the task of creating the variety of pastries and desserts from ingredients they obtain from the Slimmery's manufacturing plant in Missouri.

An appropriate mixture of subtle soft lines flows gently through its traditional river of elegance. The design gracefully moves upward through the sides, flowing into the softly rounded shelf and captivating beveled bronze glass, giving each piece its own individual character. The frames are of solid wood. Beveled bronze glass and the graceful shaping of the wood creates this captivating design.

Learning can be fun

Youngsters at Wildwood Elementary School found that learning about energy conservation can be fun as part of an assembly last Friday, staged by Westland Energy Savings Tomorrow (WEST).

The assembly, which featured well-known clown Ronald McDonald and WEST's mascot, Willie West, served as a kickoff for Energy Awareness Day in the community.

The program is part of three-phase energy conservation project in the community, funded through a grant from the State Department of Commerce, with the final phase, thermograms (infra-red photographs) of residences in the city to be displayed at open houses throughout February, March and April.

The assembly was WEST's way of getting youngsters involved in the idea of energy conservation. Youngsters not only were entertained, but also received materials related to energy conservation.

Everybody loves a clown, and probably the most recognizable these days is Ronald McDonald, mascot for the fast food franchise. Ronald joined with representatives of Westland Energy Savings for Tomorrow (WEST) and teachers in an energy awareness assembly for youngsters at Wildwood School in Westland. Showing that he has a bit of the clown stuff in him was teacher Pat Nalley (right), which drew chuckles from first grader Gary Rowley (left).

dan's dogs by dan a. morris

The introduction of the puppy to its new living quarters can be a frightening experience. Suddenly, he is thrust into a situation completely foreign to him, similar to the first day at nursery school, when a child is away from his mother.

This situation is similar to prehistoric dogs being introduced to a new pack of dogs. Our family environment simulates this pack atmosphere and because of this we have to analyze every action we make now in disciplining our dog in order to control the future reactions.

A format has to be introduced and here is one of the most successful means of approach: Purchase the dog over a weekend when everyone will be home. When you get the puppy home, let him investigate his new environment and be very observant in his actions of investigation, trying to eliminate housebreaking accidents. Signs to be aware of are circling, scratching at the carpet after play and directly after eating. In most cases, puppies are very clean animals, but we all make mistakes!

Puppies have a tendency to sleep at short intervals and, if you wish to have peace of mind when you retire for the night, it would be to your advantage to wake him gently and keep him active during the day so that he doesn't wake up crying the entire night. However, during the evening hours, when it's time for the dog to sleep, find an area of your choosing where you wish him to say. In doing so you are establishing his "place."

- Start your training as soon as your puppy is home. Introduce him to a leash and choke chain.
- Always introduce children as well as your neighbors to your new pet in an easy manner. And don't forget the mailman!
- Always praise your dog for coming to you regardless of the misdeed.
- Chewing and digging are not always related to teething. It can also be a means of rebellion or boredom.
- Always praise your dog when you decide — not when the dog comes to you for affection.
- Never spank a dog on the rear end, for you could rupture his kidneys.
- Avoid encouraging the dog to jump up on you.
- Never run with the dog because the instinct of every dog is to chase prey — a means of aggression.

The dog will behave according to how lenient you are. Good manners should be insisted upon the minute you carry him in the house, not months or years from then, when it would be much more difficult and perhaps costly to correct. Visualize what you expect of your new puppy and treat him accordingly. Patience, love and discipline will go a long way!

Church plans 'encounter'

Have your heavenly family dreams seemed more like Star Wars lately? Is your spouse beginning to resemble R2D2?

Maybe what you need is a Close Encounter of the Family Kind!!! On Sunday, Feb. 24, the Kirk of Our Savior Church in Westland will begin a journey into the universe of family relations. They will blast off with a spaghetti dinner at 6 p.m., with donations accepted. Following the dinner, at 7:30 p.m., Dr. William Greenman, a fully licensed psychologist, noted speaker and member of Crisis Intervention in the Wayne-Westland School District, will speak with adults, while interim minister, Ben Helmke, will talk with the youth.

The following five

Sundays during Lent, there will be evening sessions with the Kirk's professional counselor.

Reservations for the dinner are necessary and can be made through Feb. 18 by contacting the church office at 728-1088.
